DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's amendment to the claims has been entered.
Claims 1-45 have been canceled
Claims 46-72 are pending and currently under restriction requirement.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 46 and 71-72, drawn to a composition of matter.

Group II, claim(s) 47-70, drawn to a method of using the composition of matter.

3. The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: PCT rule 13.2 defines "special technical features" as "those technical features that defines a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art."

The uniting feature of the present invention is the composition of matter comprising an alpha macroglobulin polypeptide. Nielsen et al. teaches an amino acid sequence of ovostatin which is an alpha macroglobulin polypeptide (The Journal of Sequencing and Mapping, 1994, 5:111-119, see entire document). Therefore, the uniting feature of the present invention does not contribute over prior art; hence no special technical feature exists.

Art Unit: 1644

Species Election

4. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

I. If any one of Groups I-II is elected, Applicant is required to elect a specific matter recited in the present claims, for example:

A) an isolated polypeptide and a pharmaceutical and a vaccine composition comprising the polypeptide,

B) a purified nucleic acid, a vector, and a host cell and a pharmaceutical and a vaccine composition comprising the nucleic acid,

C) a ligand, which is an antibody, and a kit comprising an antibody

D) a compound,

E) a kit comprising a nucleic acid probe and primers, OR

F) a transgenic or knockout non-human animal.

II. In addition to the species election above, if Group II is elected, Applicant is required to elect a specific method of using the composition recited in the claims, for example:

A) treatment of a disease,

B) diagnosing a disease,

C) identification of a compound, OR

D) screening candidate compound.

In addition:

i) If any one of A and B is elected, Applicant is required to elect a specific disease recited in claims 55 and 66.

ii) If C is elected, Applicant is required to elect an ultimate species of a method step for identification of a compound (e.g. contacting a polypeptide OR contacting a nucleic acid).

Art Unit: 1644

5. Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

6. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the reason stated above, see Nielsen et al.

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
